Quarantined.

In one of the little mountain towns of the South a chautauqua meeting was held last summer for the first time. The fact was advertised for some distance round the town, but the older negroes, especially, did not understand what it was all about. Across the front of the little hotel of the village was hung a banner bearing the one word, "Chautauqua." Up to this hotel one day drove an old negro in a one-horse wagon containing a few vegetables, which he hoped to sell to the proprietor, as he had done on former occasions. But when he saw the banner with its ominous word he was seized with fright and would not go into the building, or even get out of his wagon. When the proprietor appeared, the old fellow inquired nervously, "What disease is you-all quarantined for, boss?"—Youth's Companion.

Why Invitation Was Declined.

We were asked by our old friend Billie Moore, the duck that built the Texas City dike, to be amongst them present and participate in the dike's yesterday, but our understanding of the function led us to believe that there'd be altogether too much water on hand for us. We air always ready to close the dike into our face and prevent any water from flowing 'thoo, and we air always prepared to put our wishbone again a bar and push until the last man has treated an' retreated, but we hope our old friend will forgive us for not exposin' our fool self to that much water. Sometime when he is thinkin' of openin' some thin' instead of closin' it we'll have our corkscrew ready to render first aid.—Alkali Eye.

Children's Feet Demand Care

Years of discomfort in later life may be avoided by paying proper attention to the children's shoes. Growing feet should be fitted with painless care. Children are liable to say anything is all right, just to get over the ordeal of fitting.

We take a pride in finding for each little pair of feet just the shoes they need. We carry the lines of shoes that will stand the rough wear children will give them.

Bring the children in. Of course we have everything for men and women's feet, too.

COFFEE

When we know anything is good, we just MUST talk about it. Now, there is our coffee. Some people walk blocks for a cup of it. Yes, we've watched them. Some women make a pretense of headache just to get a cup between meals. We understand that and guarantee the cure. Some people order ice cream and after the first bite "O, say, bring me a cup of coffee, too; this cream is too cold." They come in to wait on a friend or the car and drink coffee while waiting. Some cool, damp day we are going to count the cups sold and tell you how many. We are proud of our COFFEE. Ever try it?
